EDITORIAL

Dear Readers,

Our students would be facing examination in a few days. "God, don't put me to examination" Jesus said. Even Gods are afraid to be put to examination. That is why it is termed as a necessary evil. Though it is more of a necessity than an evil. Because it helps the students to keep them on their toes. In adolescence the natural tendency for the children is to be carefree and playful. Therefore it is necessary to balance it with the inculcation of the habit of regular study for the assimilation of what is taught. Examination is a tool which helps in that direction. Hence it should be looked upon as a friend and not as a foe and a tormentor.

Regular evaluation indicates the level of growth and the areas of weaknesses with the help and guidance of the teachers. Students can take timely remedial measures to deal with the deficiencies and draw backs in their performance. Examination is nothing but a diagnostic instrument for giving the true state of a student's growth graph. But if examinations are perceived to be something to be dreaded and feared, they can act as un-nerving agents for the mental state of students. And some of them who take very negative view of the whole examination system end up getting involved in serious and deplorable consequences. All this can be avoided by a healthy & positive attitude. Classroom attention, regular hardwork, continuous seeking of guidance from teachers and faith in God will allay all fear of examination and then you will take them as stepping stones towards your academic progress and future career. Therefore face exam with resolution, determination and cheerfulness. Your academic life will be purposeful, successful & enjoyable.

EXCURSION TO GOA; LAND OF SUN, SURF & SAND

A group of 87 students of Classes XI and XII and 6 teachers were taken on an excursion to Goa in the month of October. The trip to the exotic land of palm trees, grand churches and beaches was the most entertaining and exciting one. It was an eight day long educational tour full of fun 'n' frolic.

The group stayed at Hotel Old Anchor at Karuzalem, South Goa. It is a lavish resort with all the modern amenities, situated amidst lush green surroundings. The Karuzalem beach was just across the road and the group had a gala time at the beach. The picturesque scenes at the beach were captured by the cameras of the students and beautiful shells collected by them became the mementoes of the trip.

The students were taken to a visit to the ancient Mangesh Mandir at a place called "Ponda City". Later on, the group was taken to the famous Portuguese churches, 'The Cathedral' and 'Bazilika' situated at Old Goa, known for the holy body of St. Francis Xavier kept there. The itinerary also included a visit to the famous Dona Paula, Colva and Baga beaches and a visit to fort Agauda where the central Jail of Goa is also situated and is the famous shooting spot of bollywood. The icing on the cake was certainly the boat cruise on River Mandovi with the backdrop of Goan folk dance and music. The students joined the dancing troupe zealously as even their teachers started singing for them.

As all good things come to an end, the last day of the trip came. The students were taken to bid a final adieu to the land of Sun'n' Sand, Goa, to the Karuzalem beach. The group had to be forced to come out of the water to reach in time to the hotel for the final packing for the return journey. Fond memories and cherished moments spent there were carried back in each and everybody's heart as they came back to Delhi.
