If one turns around and takes a critical view on our so called progression to modernity, surely it would be a cause for circumspection, as to whether the price we are paying is sustainable, perpetually. It will then dawn to us that in the near future, we are going to exhaust the non-renewable resources that nature has bestowed us. In our greed for lapping up luxury in all facets of our life, we tend to turn a blind eye towards the irreversible collateral damage caused. This scenario was factual few years back, but thankfully, think-tank that wield influence amongst policy makers have started sensitizing Government and public at large, that time has come for us to start thinking about Conservation before it is too late. This message has slowly but surely started percolating downwards and schools have also taken upon themselves, to ingrain the need for Conservation upon young impressionable minds – our budding citizens. Our school too is in the forefront shouldering this 'need-of-the-hour' responsibility and had during the first quarter held various events to highlight this issue.

'TETE - A - TETE' WITH OUR TOPPERS

We all have big dreams, but to give life to our dreams should be our aim. Our student reporters had the opportunity to interview these toppers.

HARSHITA- Your feelings when you came to know you have scored 10 CGPA ?

PRACHI - I was elated. My parents felt proud. It was the best moment in my life.

RACHIT - An important question that comes to everyone's mind would be the criteria to be adopted while preparing for exams ?

ANUSHKA- Studying regularly, giving full attention and dedication to what one is studying.

HARSHITA - How did you balance between academics and co curricular activities?

PRAGYA - One should know the art of time management. Both academics and co-curricular activities form an essential part of a complete personality.

IPSHITA - One can always devote some extra time to maintain a balance between both. If need be, free periods can be utilized to complete the pending work.

RUSHALI - We have often heard our seniors saying "9th is very difficult, if you study hard in 9th-10th will be quite easy".Your views?

RISHABH - 9th does appear to be difficult because there is a marked changed in the course content and in the approach. There is also an increase in the quantum of curriculum.

ANAGHA - However, if we constantly endeavour, we will definitely succeed.

NISHA - Your opinion on the CCE system?

MAHIKA - Very challenging but it gives us opportunity to apply the concepts through activities and projects, that way education becomes comprehensible and enjoyable.

OUR EARTH GOES GREEN

Our earth goes green
We should keep it clean

It is a tilted ball
Which doesn't bounce at all!

Polluting air
Is just not fair.

One day earth will be no more
As we are causing problems more and more

We should use the four R's
We should enjoy every hour

I want the earth to go green
We should work together to make it clean.

Stuti Mittal - V D

OUR EARTH GOES GREEN

My mom gave me birth
God gave me chance to visit Earth,

I live with my family in town,
In a beautiful house, on the ground.

I see Earth going grey and brown,
So I took up the job, with an old crown.

Earth will go green again,
If I will make it clean again.

I will recycle those cans and plastics
Batteries and newspapers.

Will remember to turn off the light,
And grow more and more trees

For new generations I mean
Go - Green, Go - Green!

TAKE CARE OF ANIMALS

It was a beautiful Sunday morning
The sky looked clear and blue
There was cool breeze blowing
And the grass was covered with dew.

I kept tossing on my bed
Not knowing what to do
Suddenly dad entered my room and said,
"Let's go to the zoo."

I quickly rushed out of my room
Got ready to go
Sat in our car and asked dad to zoom
And we were soon inside the zoo.

The colorful birds in the cage
Was indeed a beautiful sight
The lion's roar in rage
Shook me head to toe with fright.

I gazed at the tigress
That lovingly licked its cub
A stone hurled by a child
Hit the cub on its leg.

The cub kept limping
The wound kept bleeding
Tears rolled down the cub's eyes
While its mother licked its wound.

It was a sorry plight
My heart felt heavy with this sight
I have only this to say
My friends-"Take care of animals, don't hurt
them in anyway."

Karthik M. Panikar - VIII A

LIFE! AS YOU MAKE IT

Nothing in this world is impossible. People who persevere with determination find ways to get anything and everything. Diligence is mother of good fortune. Life is not a bed of roses. Adversities are an imperative part of one's life. Just as polishing diamonds make them dazzle like never before, adversity polishes and shapes us to realize our true potential. Life is 10% how you take it and 90% how you make it. Sky is the limit for determined ones. Adversity gives us golden opportunity in trospect and makes our life more meaningful. Bad luck comes to all. Everyone face downfall in their lives. But the achievement lies in standing up again and fighting back. Joy and sorrow sleep in the same bed. It's our choice whether we want to embrace adversity with a smile and work hard or give up and become incompetent.

Pragya Dhingra - XI B

OUR EARTH GOES GREEN

Grow some trees,
Let the fresh air be free
Do not smoke,
Otherwise you will choke
Do not cut trees,
Make our earth green please
Do not waste electricity
Or we will soon live in a dark city
Do not spread pollution
Let us find a solution
Do not use plastic bags,
Make bags out of rags
Grow some trees,
Let the fresh air be free

JOURNEY OF LIFE

Life is a journey
Not a smooth one
Not an easy one
But which has something for everyone
In the beginning of this journey,
Everything seems nice.
But as the journey progresses,
You realize it's really not that nice.
Different people with different aims,
Have their own different destinations.
But you must work hard,
Or you could end up on a lonesome station.
There shall be ups and downs,
There shall be good and bad days.
Always keep up a happy face,
And remember this is just a phase.
This journey will take you places,
That you have never seen.
Just have faith in yourself,
And live your dreams.
'Tis dreams that take us all along
Make us reach great heights
To begin a new life, a new journey
And yet another beginning.....

RESPECTING NATURE

Nature is one of the most precious gifts that we share. It is our good fortune to be blessed with forests, wildlife and abundant grasslands. These are some of the components of nature that often astound us with their splendor. The ethereal beauty possessed by nature is something that we all appreciate. We need to respect Mother Earth. It is indeed a simple idea, and doesn't seem too hard to follow. But in reality, humans have been disrespecting Mother Nature, blatantly and mercilessly since long that Mother Earth- an embodiment of unending kindness and forgiveness has now started to hit back. In order to fulfill our greed, we never stopped to ponder at the consequences of our actions. In our relentless persual of a luxurious life, we never paused and thought about the sacrifices nature was making for us. And now that things have already escalated too far, swift action is required. Hence we must abandon our greed and take steps to return the equilibrium within nature .Unfortunately the task is not as simple as it sounds. This task requires immense dedication and utmost perseverance .More than anything; it requires the commitment of each and every human .Only when everybody steps forward and takes a pledge to save Mother Earth, the dream of saving the Earth from the horrific consequences of our actions can be possible. So, let's join hands and get together to fight for our own Dear Earth.

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF A TREE

I am a tree in a dark forest. I feel very proud when I look at my shiny leaves, long trunk and beautiful honey- bearing flowers. I am happy that I provide shelter to many animals and birds. All my relatives and my parents live around me. My mother told me that I was sleeping in her arms, when one day I suddenly fell down. After a few days, I found that I was growing. I was able to stand on my feet. As I grew, I started looking beautiful with branches and leaves jutting out of me. Now I am an adult tree like my parents. I provide things like wood and oil. I help in purifying air. I take carbon dioxide and provide oxygen to all. Birds and animals play on my branches and many of the birds make their nests on my branches. They enjoy eating my fruits.

Suddenly one day I saw some people with axes roaming in the forest. All my relatives were very scared of them. Suddenly they started hitting me with their axes. I screamed but no one heard me. Very soon I fell on the ground. They took me to their house after cutting me into tiny pieces. All animals and birds felt very sad because I was cut. On my felling, they cried all night. I pray to God that the criminals who cut me - must be punished!

SOCIAL GRACES

Times have changed, but the need for the small social contracts that make up polite society haven't. Every culture in the world has an accepted code of etiquette and disdain for those who break that code. Manners and social graces don't just show off a person's level of education and charm, but they show that he is considerate, caring and cooperative. Knowing the finer points of etiquette can help a person in every social situation.
